Choices.... to choose between right or wrong is simple, but what defines one's life is the decision between the greater of the two goods or the lesser of the two evils. This is the advice that Zooni Ali Beg (Kajol) receives from her father just as she is about to venture out into the world on her very own for the first time. Little does she know that these very words will shape her life.

Zooni, a blind Kashmiri girl, meets Rehan Qadri (Aamir Khan), a local tour guide and an incorrigible flirt. Her friends warn her against this good-for-nothing roadside Romeo, but she chooses to ignore them. It is now her time to discover life and love. Is this really the right choice?

Rehan is fascinated by Zooni and wants her to see life as it should be seen, in many colours. He promises her that the time spent with him will be the most precious in all her life. Zooni sees Delhi, life and love she has never seen before, because of Rehan.

What Zooni doesn't know is that Rehan has another side of his life that he has kept from her--- Something that can not only change her life but can also destroy it.

Fanaa.....destroyed in love....

"Sanjay Singhania (Aamir Khan) is a rich tycoon suffering from short term memory loss due to being hit by a metal pole when trying to intervene on his girlfriend's murder. Because of the severe injury on his head, his memory can only last for fifteen minutes and he doesn't remember events or incidents that have happened before in his life. He can now only live a comprehensible life by tattooing notes on himself and taking pictures of things with a Polaroid camera to remind himself of the incidents that have happened. His story is unraveled by a police officer (Riyaz Khan) who is hunting him due to several murders he has committed while trying to find his girlfriend's murderer through his diary. His story has also piqued the interest of a medical college student, Chitra (Jiah Khan) who is searching for a patient with an "interesting" record for her college project. Chitra comes to know about Sanjay's love with Kalpana (Asin Thottumkal) a model cum activist. When her activist work for children comes in the way of child racketeers, she is killed by Ghajini when she intervened with his plan of kidnapping 25 young girls to Goa. So, with the help of Chitra, Sanjay sets out on a revenge spree, searching for the murderer of the one love of his life... "

Mangal Pandey--The rising is an epic tale of friendship , love, loss and betrayal set against the backdrop of the Indian Mutiny of 1857. British colonial rulers are plundering the country, treating the locals unjustly and causing widespread resentment. Worst of all they are using Indians as Sepoys, the infantry of the army to control and regulate the population.

After a 100 years of subjugation, India is awakening to the revolutionary prospect of change and self-rule. During a fierce battle in the Afghan wars of the mid century, Mangal Pandey a heroic Sepoy rescues his British commanding officer, William Gordon. The event creates a strong friendship and binding loyalty between them that transcends consideration of rank & race. The friendship is soon challenged first by the arrival of the charming and beautiful young aristocrat, Emily Kent and then by the introduction of controversial new gun cartridges among the troops. The relationship is complicated further when Gordon saves a young beautiful native girl, Jwala from the funeral pyre of her late husband and falls in love with her. The new cartridges require soldiers to bite through their greased casing made of animal fat and suspicion spreads that the British are ignoring religious beliefs in favor of cheap weapons and polluting their Muslim and Hindu soldiers. Gordon assures Mangal that the cartridges are free from pollution. Demonstrating total trust in Gordon, Mangal bites the Cartridges only to find that it is really animal fat. With the rumor spreading that the cartridges will be widely used, it is this act that ignites the resentment in the country. Mutiny breaks out with Mangal Pandey growing in stature to lead the Indian people to freedom ( 2 discs).

Rang de Basanti is a story about the youth of India today. A young London based film maker chances upon the diaries of her grandfathe , who served in the British Police Force in India during the freedom struggle. Excited about these memoirs, she makes plans to shoot a film on the Indian revolutionaries mentioned in the diaries. She comes down to Delhi and casts a group of 5 young friends to play the roles of these revolutionaries. However , products of modern India, the 5 young stars refuse to be a part of the project , as they can't identify with these characters. To them issues like partiotism and giving ones life for ones beliefs is what stuffy textbooks are made of. They would rather party. In this youthful, lively and entertaining film, the 1930's British India and the India today run parallel and intersect with each other. As the film reaches its resolution, the line between past and present blurs as they become one in spirit.
